

Right Click and select “inspect”

we can also change code from here but it will not change file on computer. It only changes the view in Google Chrome.

Click on the circled icon on above screenshot and move the cursor to any part of page and click there it will highlight the code of the particular place where cursor user agent stylesheet means it the predefined properties by chrome itself

In “console” we can write javascript